NEW YORK – Taxi 07, a project of the Design Trust for Public Space, aims to inject sustainable mobility, access for all, and good design into the iconic yellow cab and the broader taxi system—just in time for the 100th anniversary of the modern day taxi in New York City. The project culminated in an exhibition of innovative taxi prototypes and related displays at the 2007 New York International Auto Show in April.

The objectives of Taxi 07 are to:

- foster design innovation,
- celebrate the taxi's centennial, and
- develop a taxi system strategic plan in partnership with the New York City Taxi & Limousine Commission.

The centerpiece of the Taxi 07 project was an exhibit at the 2007 New York International Auto Show from April 6-15, 2007, that will showcase the contributions of automotive, design, technology, and academic partners.

The Taxi 07 Exhibit, presented by Standard Taxi, featured several taxi prototypes along with taxi related installations and displays collectively emphasizing innovations in sustainable mobility, access for all, and good design.

The exhibit was located outdoors in the inner roadway of the Jacob K. Javits Convention Center, at 11th Avenue and 35th Street in New York City, and was free and open to the public.

Celebrating the Centennial In honor of one of the most iconic symbols of New York City, the Design Trust and its Taxi 07 cultural partners had organized a series of public events to mark the centennial of the modern day taxi.

TAXI 07 EXHIBIT OPENS TO MUCH ACCLAIM AT THE NY AUTO SHOW!

Standard Taxi was the presenting sponsor of the Taxi 07 Exhibit with major support provided by Richter + Ratner: Exhibition Design. Consultation and experience was provided by Imagination, USA Inc. The opening night invitation only party was presented by Target. The media sponsor was New York magazine.

EVENTS

CELEBRATING THE CENTENNIAL OF THE NEW YORK CITY TAXI

Design Trust for Public Space’s Taxi 07 puts spotlight on NYC icon, the Taxi, in honor of the 100th anniversary of the modern day taxi in New York City. The Design Trust for Public Space is bringing attention to this significant city symbol through its Taxi 07 project. Taxi 07 celebrated the taxi’s centennial, foster design innovation and develop a taxi system strategic plan in partnership with the New York City Taxi & Limousine Commission.

Except for the first ever ten year Taxi System Report to be published in 2007 the project culminated in April with a series of special events. The centerpiece of the Taxi 07 project was an exhibit at the 2007 New York International Auto Show from April 6-15, 2007 that showcased the contributions of automotive, design and academic partners.

The Taxi 07 Exhibit, presented by Standard Taxi, featured several taxi prototypes along with taxi related installations and displays which collectively highlighted innovations in sustainable mobility, accessibility, and good design. Additionally, Mayor Michael R. Bloomberg designated “Taxi Week” in New York City from April 6-15, 2007.

Highlighting the taxi’s role in popular culture, IFC Center hosted a month long film series during weekends in April. A look back at the most memorable cabs and cab drivers on celluloid, films included:

- Speedy
- Taxi!
- Taxi Driver
- 99 River Street
- Midnight
- Night on Earth
- Mona Lisa

TAXI 07 APRIL CALENDAR OF EVENTS INCLUDED:

At the Taxi 07 Exhibit Opening Night Party, designers from Smart Design and officials from the Taxi & Limousine Commission discussed the future of the yellow cab.

Partygoers toast 100 years of taxis in NYC with “taxi-tinis.”

This "sketch model" of the Kia Rando Taxi prototype displays many innovative design ideas that didn’t make the final cut.

A celebration of taxis isn’t complete without a look back to the Checker Cabs that made the NYC taxi the icon that it is today.

The Taxi 07 Exhibit’s Opening Night Party was sponsored by Target.
